Conduct

Players, coaches, and spectators are expected to conduct themselves in a responsible manner both on and off the field. Displays of temper or dissent are cause for ejection from the game and surrounding field area and may result in suspension of the player and/or team from the tournament as decided by the Tournament Director.

A player issued 2 yellow cards in the same game, or a red card, must be sent off and is ineligible to play the balance of the time remaining in the game in which the offense occurred. This player may not be replaced and the team must play with 1 less player than were on the field at the time of the red card.

Additionally, players, coaches, and team officials ejected from a tournament game by the referee are ineligible for the next scheduled tournament game. If a coach is coaching more than one team and is red carded, the coach remains suspended from coaching until they have served the one game suspension with the team they received the red card with.

Any player, coach or Team official ejected from a game for violent conduct shall result in the suspension of that person for the remainder of the tournament.

In the event of the keeper being sent off, the coach is allowed to bring in a substitute keeper from the bench if desired. However, one field player must then be removed and the team must play with one less player than were on the field at the time of the red card.

It is the coach's responsibility to control the conduct of the players, parents, and spectators associated with that coach's team. In accordance with the USYSA Tournament Hosting Agreement, all red and yellow cards and other matters involving team conduct will be reported to the home club and the state association of the team involved.

Referees must report yellow and red cards awarded to any person on the game card submitted to the Tournament Director and/or Field Coordinator.
